Dear Clients and Partners,

At Centravis, our production continues smoothly. We have a reliable supply of energy, water, and billets, ensuring our operations are efficient. The team remains focused and committed, with our equipment performing at the high standards.

Due to disruptions in the Red Sea trading route, we anticipate possible delays in order deliveries to our Asian and Middle East markets, potentially extending up to 2 weeks. We are monitoring the situation closely and are committed to minimizing any impact on delivery schedules.

This week I visited our production in Nikopol. My meeting with our team was very encouraging. I saw noticeable advancements in both equipment and processes. I was very happy to see high team's spirit and motivation, and they extend their thanks for your ongoing support and orders.

As we approach our two-week winter break starting next week, we assure you that our support team will be available for any urgent needs you may have during this period.

As the year draws to a close, we extend our warmest wishes to you for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We thank you for your continued partnership and look forward to a prosperous year ahead.

Should you have any inquiries or require assistance, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Warm regards,

Best regards,
